in Anti-Aging Skin Care!*

About Skin Stem Cells

Stem Cells are born in the bottom “basal” layer of the epidermis. Skin scientists claim they are programmed by genes for a specific number of replications (self renewals).

Regeneration is affected by sun damage, smoking, injury, etc., but mostly by chronological aging.

With wear and tear and general aging, skin’s stem cells gradually lose energy, become weaker and less efficient in creating healthy new skin. That’s when signs of aging start to appear.

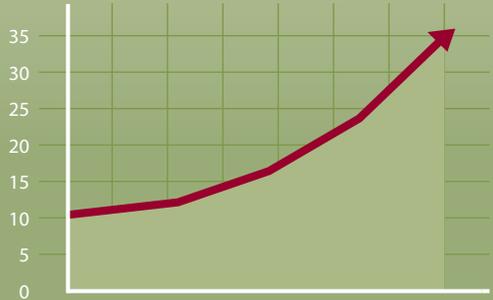

However, Swiss scientists have discovered that stem cells from a rare Swiss Apple can actually repair a human’s aged or damaged stem cells, giving new life and a younger look and feel to skin.

What’s more, they can even extend the longevity of normal, healthy cells and “help keep wrinkles at bay”.

In other words, the Swiss Apple extract helps human cells act younger and live longer. The result is improved skin texture, reduced wrinkle depth, and ultimately, better looking skin.

Stem Cell Activity

A stem cell will lose “energy” over time, but Reviva’s Stem Cell Booster Serum helps prevent loss of energy and actually increases cell energy over time.

Special Note: reapplication

Applying Reviva’s Stem Cell Booster Serum alone provides benefits you can see and feel, but because of the serum’s stem cell stimulating effectiveness, Reviva Labs went further and tested the formula for increased effect via LAYERING. The result: the serum also acts as a catalyst.

Tests showed that applying our Serum under our Alpha Lipoic Acid Antioxidant Cream, Hyaluronic Acid Hydrating Cream or Serum, or under our DMAE Firming Fluid, improved skin response to each item. Reviva’s Stem Cell Booster Serum appears to multiply the effects of other day or night creams (or serum) layered over it.

If you boost the activity of your skin's stem cells, reversing or slowing aging is possible!

Stem cell research has had many incredible breakthroughs in recent years. One of the biggest related to anti-aging skin care is the Uttwiler Spatlauber Apple. This extremely rare Swiss Apple possesses an almost magical extract that rejuvenates or reactivates stem cells in your skin. By boosting the activity of your skin's own stem cells, aging dull skin can be restored to healthy, younger-looking skin.

Reactivate your body's fountain of youth - the stem cells

During research, a 2% extract of Swiss Apple Malus Domestica was applied twice daily for 28 days. The results were impressive - wrinkles showed significant visible decreases in 100% of the test subjects! The Swiss Apple's extract revitalizes stem cells - recharging the cell - turning it into an anti-aging acting powerhouse.

Reviva makes youth affordable again

Celebrities have already discovered the benefits of the stem cell extract derived from a special Swiss Apple. Vogue magazine reported Michele Obama using a Swiss Apple Stem Cell Serum costing over $300.00. Helen Mirren and Gwyneth Paltrow are also reported users.

Throughout our 38-year history, Reviva Labs is known for bringing consumers groundbreaking technology at an affordable price. Using our experience, we were able to formulate an effective serum that costs just $30.00 for a one-ounce bottle.

Now the Swiss Apple secret can be experienced by everyone, not just the Hollywood elite.

Uttwiler Spatlauber is the name of the special Swiss apple and "Malus Domestica" is the stem cell extract from the apple.

For nearly 40 years Reviva Labs has been making new skin care breakthroughs affordable. Prior to 1973, the word “Exfoliation” was unknown in America. Today it is known as a skin care “must”, thanks in part to Stephen Strassler, founder of Reviva Labs, and one of America’s earliest Aestheticians. He introduced the first exfoliant to America’s health food stores and emerging skin-salon market.

Over the years, Reviva Labs has continued to pioneer many other skin care breakthroughs such as 100% freeze-dried Collagen Fibre, Elastin, topical trace minerals, Vitamin P for spider veins and rosacea, Essential Fatty Acids for thin skin and more. Innovative concepts were also initiated, such as a non-drying approach to acne, a special treatment for brown spots, and “LAYERING” complementary products over one another. All with the goal of keeping the cost affordable for the average American.
